

JANUARY CLEARANCE SALE!

Still on. Bargains for everybody. Come before they are all gone. All Goods Sold Strictly for Cash or Country Produce. Nothing Charged.

Ladies' and Children's Cloaks

$ 2.50 Cloaks for	$1 25
5.00 Cloaks for	2.50
7.50 Cloaks for	3.75
10.00 Cloaks for	5.00
12.50 Cloaks for	6.25
15.00 Cloaks for	7.50

Men's and Boy's Clothing

One lot of boys' Overcoats at half price

$1.50 Coats for	$.75
2.50 Coats for	1.25
5.00 Coats for	2.50

Men's Overcoats

$ 5.00 Coats at	$3.50
10.00 Coats at	6.65
12.50 Coats at	8.35
15.00 Coats at	10.00

Men's Rain Coats

$ 5.00 Rain Coats at	$3.50
7.50 Rain Coats at	5.50
12.50 Rain Coats at	9.00

Men's Suits

$ 7.50 Suits at	$ 5 00
10.90 Suits at	6 75
12.50 Suits at	8 50
15.00 Suits at	10.00

Boys' Suits

$3.50 Suits at	$2.00
5 00 Suits at	3.50
7.50 Suits at	5.00

Ladies' All-Wool Sweaters

$1.50 Sweaters at	$1 00
2.00 Sweaters at	1.50
3.00 Sweaters at	2.00

Big Reduction of Carpets, Matting, Stoves and Furniture

50c Ingrain Carpet at	40c
Best Home-made Carpet at	25c
25c Matting at	20c

4 Cap Cook Stove

$15.00 Stoves at	$10.00
20.00 Stoves at	15.00
25.00 Steel Range, 6 caps, at	20.00
35.00 Steel Range, 6 caps, at	30.00

Furniture Rocking Chairs

$1.00 Rocking Chairs at	$.90
1.50 Rocking Chairs at	1.35
2.50 Rocking Chairs at	2.25
3.50 Rocking Chairs at	3.00
5.00 Rocking Chairs at	4.00
7.00 Rocking Chairs at	6.00

Iron Bed Steads

3.00 Iron Bed Steads at	2.75
4.00 Iron Bed Steads at	3.50
5.00 Iron Bed Steads at	4.25
6.00 Iron Bed Steads at	5.00
7.50 Iron Bed Steads at	6.75

Mattresses

3.50 Mattresses at	3.00
Kitchen Cabinets worth $12.50 at	10.00

Men's Hats Special Prices

$2 00 Hats at	$1.50
2.50 Hats at	2.00
3.00 Hats at	2.50

Grocery Department

17 pounds of Granulated Sugar for	$1.00
1 pound package Coffee at	.20
3 pounds Soda for	.05
7 bars Clean-Easy Soap for	.25
3 cans Clover Creek Tomatoes for	.25
2 cans Salmon for	.25
3 cans Corn for	.25

In This Sale Only

2 Sulky Plows at Bargains as follows:

1 Avery, Torpids Steel Riding Plow, 12-inch cut, right hand; worth $30.00 at	$24.00
---	---------

1 Moline all-steel Riding Plow; 14-inch cut; right hand, worth $35.00 at	$30.00
---	---------

Extra steel points with each plow.

These are two good bargains and farmers should not let them pass if in need of steel riding plows.

We are caught with too many goods by reason of the warm weather. This is your opportunity to buy up-to-date winter goods at half-price

PETE SHEERAN, BROS. & CO., : : Kirk, Ky.

GARFIELD NEWS

Miss Mandie Bullock and S. T. Dowell Married at the Bride's Home Christmas Day - Personal Notes

MATTINGLY -- POOL WEDDING

Morris B. Richardson and brother, Ralph Richardson, were visitors of relatives in Hardinsburg Christmas.

Miss Cora Wood came down from Louisville to spend the holidays with her sister, Mrs. Mattie Dowell and other relatives.

Louise Carman, who has been living in Illinois for several years, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dink Carman.

Henry D. Basham and family, who have been living on the Dr. A. M. Kinchee farm for a number of years, has bought a farm from T. A. Gray, above Garfield, and are moving there.

Mr. H. C. Truman, from Fordsville, is a visitor in our midst.

Mr. I. B. Richardson was in Louisville part of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor Dowell, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bell and Mr. and Mrs. Sim Payne, all of Irvington, spent Christmas day with Mrs. D. H. Smith.

Mrs. Ediza Bandy, of Stephensport, attended the funeral of her sister, Mrs. Fannie Board, and will be the guest of Miss Nannie Board for some time.

Mrs. Vernon Mattingly came out from Hardinsburg to spend Christmas with Mrs. Ella Mattingly and family.

Estil Payne was the guest of Mrs. Amos Wood Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Minor Compton were visitors of Mr. and Mrs. I. B. Richardson and attended church here Sunday.

Miss Mandie Bullock and Mr. S. T. Dowell were married at the bride's home Christmas day. Rev. Leslie DeHart performed the ceremony. They are popular young people of our community and their many friends wish for them a long and prosperous life.

Miss Clara Eskridge is spending the Christmas holidays with her brother in Hardinsburg.

Misses Ruth and Martha Harned are with their parents, Dr. E. C. Harned and Mrs. Harned.

Rev. Leslie DeHart filled his regular appointment here Saturday and Sunday.

Catarrh Cannot Be Cured

with LOCAL APPLICATIONS, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease. Catarrh is a blood or constitutional disease, and in order to cure it you must take internal remedies. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, and acts directly upon the blood and mucous surface. Hall's Catarrh Cure is not a quick medicine. It was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years and is a regular prescription. It is composed of the best tonics known, combined with the best blood purifiers, acting directly on the mucous surface. The perfect combination of the two ingredients is what produces such wonderful results in curing catarrh. Send for testimonials, free. P. J. CHENEY & CO., Props., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, price 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

but returned home Sunday evening on account of his family being down with measles.

Miss Mary Ann Harned, who has been quite sick with typhoid fever, is able to be up.

Miss Maud Mattingly and Mr. Lannie Pool surprised their friends by getting married in Hardinsburg.

Mr. Sam Morelock came up from Owensboro to attend the funeral of his sister, Mrs. Fannie Board.

Mr. Clarence Hook has moved his family to Dr. Kinchee's farm for the year.

Mr. Henry Davis, from Irvington, was in our midst last week.

Mrs. Rebecca Basham, who has been the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Simmons in Louisville, since last November, is home again.

Mr. Joe Shrewsbury, from Madrid, visited his daughter, Mrs. George Drane, Saturday.

The many friends of Mr. P. Milliner, who has been so very sick, will be glad to know he is much better.

Clay Mars is very sick with pneumonia.

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Adkisson was buried at Freedom Saturday.

Mr. Virgil W. Smith was in Custer Saturday.

Mrs. William Dowell visited her sons, Judge D. Dowell and Raymond Dowell, in Hardinsburg, last week.

Mrs. Melvin Adams is sick at this writing.

Mr. Roland Smith, from Stephensport, was the week end guest of D. H. Smith and other relatives here.

Mrs. Lucy Haynes is visiting in Irvington this week.

The many friends here of Mr. Henry Head are grieved to hear of his serious illness at his home in Irvington.

Mr. and Mrs. I. B. Richardson spent

New Year's day with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Minor Compton, in Hardinsburg.

Mr. John Nichols, from Louisville, spent part of last week here with his mother, Mrs. Mary Nichols and other relatives.

Cotton Seed Meal and Sucrose. Heston Whitworth & Co., Hardinsburg. Ask for prices.

The miscellaneous show given Mrs. Lannie Pool at Mrs. V. W. Smith's New Year's day was well attended and quite a number of useful presents were received.

C. D. Wallis and Supt. Joe Trent were here Saturday on business.

Mr. Tom Gregory left Sunday for Catskill, New York, as a witness in the Ramsey case.

Whenever You Need a General Tonic Take Grove's

The Old Standard Grove's Tasteless Tonic is equally valuable as a General Tonic because it contains the well known tonic properties of QUININE and IRON. It acts on the Liver, Drives out Malaria, Enriches the Blood and Builds up the Whole System. 50 cents.

STEPHENSPOET

Prof. Rufus McCoy, of the Coverport High school, was in town Saturday, the guest of his sister, Mrs. Wm. Chenaunt.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Pumphrey, of Chenaunt, spent Christmas in town with relatives and friends.

There will be a call meeting at the Baptist church on Saturday, Jan. 9, 1915, at 10 o'clock a. m. Some very important business to be attended to and all members are requested to be present.

Jamison Hawkins, of Louisville, was the guest of his parents during the holidays.

Dr. George C. Shively was in Owensboro one day last week.

R. A. Smith was in Hensley last Saturday the guest of his nephew, Hawkins Smith.

Cotton Seed Meal and Sucrose. Heston Whitworth & Co., Hardinsburg. Ask for prices.

Charles Drury, of Irvington, was in town last Friday.

Mrs. J. Schopp is in Louisville, with her father, Signor Blitz, who is very ill.

Jerry Lennon, of Hardinsburg, was the holiday guest of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Smith.

Hewitt Dix, after spending the holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam H. Dix, returned Saturday to Lexington, where he has been in school at the State University.

Miss Lucile Hardin, of Holt, visited Miss Marion Dix, last week.

Dr. B. H. Parrish will leave next week for Ohio county, where he will locate to practice his profession.

Dr. R. I. Stephenson was called to Concordia last Thursday, to be at the bedside of his sister, who is dangerously ill.

Mrs. G. W. Payne and Mrs. Mary Adkisson were the guests of Mrs. Ben Lay last Sunday and on their return home Mrs. Adkisson fell and badly sprained her right arm.

Little Lucy Cashman, who has been ill for some time, is convalescent.

Allie Blaine, of Illinois, is with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Blaine for a two weeks' visit.

Mrs. Bettie Napper is ill at this writing.

E. F. Fox, one of our oldest citizens and soldier, has gone to Marion, Ind., where he will make his future home.

Emery French of Nebraska and Olin Dowell, of South Dakota, are at home with their parents on a vacation.

Dangers of a Cold.

Do you know that of all the minor ailments colds are by far the most dangerous? It is not the colds themselves that you need to fear, but the serious diseases that they so often lead to. For that reason every cold should be gotten rid of with the least possible delay. To accomplish this you will find Chamberlain's Cough Remedy of great help to you. It loosens a cold, relieves the lungs, aids expectoration and enables the system to throw off the cold. For sale by all dealers.

Clean Up

This is the season that every farmer should make an effort to clean up about the premises. All machinery should be cleaned, oiled and placed under shelter. Exposure to the elements is far more injurious to farm implements than well directed use. Therefore, the farmer who takes good care of his implements will have them for use much longer than his neighbor who allows them to remain under the old apple tree all winter. Mow any weeds that may be standing around the homestead and driveways. The dead weeds and rubbish in the orchard

Victoria Hotel

LOUISVILLE, KY.

Opposite Union Station

Rate $1.00 --- Bath $1.50

European

Solicits patronage of Cloverport Business Men and Shoppers should be raked up and burned, as such material affords a fine place for orchard pests to pass the winter.

For any pain, burn, scald or bruise, apply Dr. Thomas' Eclectic Oil—the household remedy. Two sizes 25c and 50c at all drug stores.

How The Separator Has Helped Holsteins

The use of the hand cream separator has had much to do with increasing the popularity of the Holstein cow. In former years the Jersey was nearly always chosen in preference to the Holstein where butter or cream were the marketable products of that particular dairy. The principal reason for this was that the cream on the Jersey milk would rise quickly when set in pans or crocks and on account of larger size of the fat globules was also much easier to churn. The use of the separator has made it possible to take the butter fat or cream out of the milk immediately after milking, leaving the skim milk for the calves or pigs and with proper ripening the churn yields show as much butter as from other breeds of cattle.

Excellent for Stomach Trouble.

"Chamberlain's Tablets are just fine for stomach trouble," writes Mrs. G. C. Dunn, Arnold, Pa. "I was bothered with this complaint for some time and frequently had bilious attacks. Chamberlain's Tablets afforded me great relief from the first, and since taking one bottle of them I feel like a different person." For sale by all dealers.

Swine Feeds

Shorts make one of the best swine

feeds, but with feeds at present prices it is rather expensive to feed alone. In this section it will usually pay to feed some corn with the shorts. When these two feeds are used it is recommended that the ration be one-third to one-half shorts. It is advisable to feed shorts as a slop rather than dry, since less feed is wasted when it is fed wet. While shorts makes an efficient corn supplement the substitution of some tankage or linseed oilmeal for a part at least of the shorts usually cheapens the ration. A ration of corn eight parts, shorts two part and tankage one part should give good results. Skim milk is a desirable swine feed, particularly for young growing swine, since it contains a high per cent. of protein and ash, the nutrients especially needed for muscle and bone-building. Skim milk is most economically used when one pound of grain is fed with each three to five pounds of milk. Whether or not it will pay to feed skim milk would depend of course on the price compared with feeds, the kind of hogs to which it was fed and other conditions not named by your correspondent.

Cure Hog Cholera

The word "cure" is seldom used in connection with hog cholera. Why? Because of the frequent failures. But we use the word "cure" and guarantee that B. A. Thomas Hog Powders will cure 90 hogs out of 100. The record today is a little over 95 out of every 100, so we guarantee 90.

We don't care what others may think or say. We know what we are doing, and will tell you B. A. Thomas Hog Powder, guaranteeing that it will save 9 out of ten hogs. It is medicine—straight medicine. It is because it's straight medicine that it cures 95 times in 100. For sale at Wedding's drug store, Cloverport, Ky.

HILL ITEMS

To dare go forth with a purpose true,
To the unknown task of the year that's new,
To do his work and lift his load,
To add your gift to the world's good cheer,
Is to have and to give a glad New Year
—Presbyterian Advance.

Mrs. Arnold and children, who have been visiting at Horse Branch, Fordsville and Irvington returned home Friday night.

Miss Minnie Isome fell last week and sprained her arm, which was quite painful but not serious.

Mr. and Mrs. John McGovern, from near town, attended the funeral of her niece, Mrs. Horace Mode.

Mrs. Joe Allen and baby are on the sick list and Mrs. Armstrong not so well at this writing.

Effie Oram, who has been quite ill, is reported better.

A family reunion was held last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edmonston on the birthday of their son, Emmett.

Mrs. Peyton Scott and son, Arad, are sick, but not seriously so.

Tom Garrett, from near Hardin's school house, moved last week to Patesville.

Mrs. J. Beaven, from McQuady, is visiting relatives and friends on the hill.

Mrs. Kate Ditzbaugh sends greetings to friends from her home, 907 South Sixth street, Louisville, saying she is happy with her boys, Louis and J. P. Ditzbaugh.

Miss Iva Wine spent three days in Tobinsport last week, the guest of Mrs. John H. McKinney.

Mrs. Simon Beaven was surprised and very much pleased on New Year's eve when she was informed that her number was the lucky one that drew the silk quilt that was raffled off.

Tom Downs has moved into the West Steel property and Will McCoy into the house vacated by Downs.

THE SECRET OF SUCCESS.

Genuine Merit Required to Win the People's Confidence.

Have you ever stoped to reason why it is that so many products that are extensively advertised, all at once drop out of sight and are soon forgotten? The reason is plain—the article did not fulfil the promise of the manufacturer. This applies more particular to medicine. A medical preparation that has real curative value almost sells itself, as like an endless chain system the remedy is recommended by those who have been benefited, to those who are in need of it.

A prominent druggist says: "Take for example Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a preparation I have sold for many years and never hesitate to recommend, for in almost every case it shows excellent results, as many of my customers testify. No other kidney remedy that I know of has so large a sale."

According to sworn statements and verified testimony of thousands who have used the preparation, the success of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is due to the fact that it fulfils almost every wish in overcoming kidney, liver and bladder diseases, corrects urinary troubles and neutralizes the uric acid which causes rheumatism.

You may receive a sample bottle of Swamp-Root by Parcels Post. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., and enclose ten cents; also mention The Breckenridge News.

HARNED

Miss Emma Gray spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Gray.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Davidson, of Falls of Rough, have returned to their home after a visit to Mrs. Drane, near Mook.

Miss Bettie Kincheloe, of Hardinsburg, was the guest last week last week of her sister, Mrs. Coleman Payne.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Macy spent Sunday at West View with her mother, Mrs. Robert Norton.

Allene Willis and Paul Basham, of Kingswood, have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Glasscock.

Mrs. Graycroft, of Vine Grove, has returned home after a visit to Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Crews.

Mrs. Jim Holmes and Miss Jennie Payne were in Hardinsburg shopping last Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clint Tucker, of Louisville, are the guests of Mrs. Shelby Tucker.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Payne have gone to Repton where they expect to reside.

Mora Pile spent Saturday and Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Pile, at their home near Mook.

How To Give Quinine To Children.
FEBRILINE is the trade-mark name given to an improved Quinine. It is a Tasteless Syrup, pleasant to take and does not disturb the stomach. Children take it and never know it is Quinine. Also especially adapted to adults who cannot take ordinary Quinine. Does not nauseate nor cause nervousness nor ringing in the head. Try it the next time you need Quinine for any purpose. Ask for genuine original package. The name FEBRILINE is blown in bottle. 25 cents.

WAKES UP THE LIVER

Liv Ver Lax puts the liver in tone to perform its proper functions giving new life, new vigor and strength to the entire system. Read what a prominent Texas farmer writes of Liv-Ver-Lax:

April 7, 1914.
"I take pleasure in saying for publication that by the use of Liv Ver Lax I have been cured of a disease which is correctly described by the recognized symptoms of Biliousness, Stomach and Liver trouble, Constipation and resulting complications and commend its use to all like sufferers. J. H. Brewer."
A. H. Cain, Witness.

A harmless vegetable compound, guaranteed to relieve all liver troubles; wonderful, quick and happy in results, having no nauseating, weakening effects like calomel. Sold in 50c and $1 bottles. Buy from druggists or from Lebanon Co-Operative Medicine Company, Lebanon, Tenn.—Kincheloe's Pharmacy.

Give The Cow a Rest

Most farmers seem to breed the cow with no concern as to her resourcefulness or enduring qualities. She is bred at an early age; bred again just as soon as possible after her first calving; held right to her milk as nearly as possible to her next calving time and handled thus until she is worn out and no longer useful.

With such management her unborn calf will have much of its sustenance taken from it on account of the nourishment going toward keeping up the cow which results in a weakened offspring and which influence gradually yields a most deteriorating effect on the grade of the herd in general since each succeeding calf will be still more undesirable than the one before it.

Biliousness and Constipation Cured.

If you are troubled with biliousness or constipation you will be interested in the statement of R. F. Erwin, Peru, Ind. "A year ago last winter I had an attack of indigestion. Seeing Chamberlain's Tablets so highly recommended, I bought a bottle of them and they helped me right away. For sale by all dealers."

The Farmer and

The Country Merchant

The prosperity of the country merchant depends upon the good will of the farming community in which he has established himself.

The farmers ought to confer with the country merchant. He ought to be their business agent, doing everything in his power to make farming profitable, both in buying produce from the farmer and selling goods to the farmer.

The country merchant is the least expensive of all the middle men. When the policy of community co-operation, so earnestly advocated by Home and Farm, has become the controlling policy in farm life, there will be a far better understanding between the farmer and the merchant and they will work together for the benefit of the community.

In a recent issue we told of the country merchant who had established a regular delivery route from his store into the surrounding community, making his journey on regular days along special roads and carrying with him not only the goods ordered, but other goods for inspection, supplying the old-time peddler and having the advantage of being known to the community and being a permanent resident in the community.

By establishing these wagon routes the merchant can develop his business just as the postoffice developed its business in the free rural delivery.—Home and Farm.

Woman Cures Horse Colic.

The men were away as usual. The horse was bad. A lone woman could not "drench" in the old way. She called up a neighbor and her men were away—but: "We have Farris Colic Remedy that you drop on the horse's tongue," says Mrs. Neighbor. So she came over and dropped Farris Colic Remedy on the horse's tongue and the horse was well when the men came home. Moral: Get Farris Colic Remedy so the women can cure horse colic. We sell it at 50 cts. a bottle on the Money Back Plan. For sale at Wedding's drug store, Cloverport, Ky.

Small Boys Get

Largest Prices This Year

The highest price yet paid for tobacco this year by the loose leaf house was paid to two small boys, the son and an adopted son of Mr. James W. Miller, near Hardinsburg. The price paid was $13.52.

Don't use harsh physics. The reaction weakens the bowels, leads to chronic constipation. Get Doan's Regulators. They operate easily. 25c at all stores.

Louisville Daily Herald and The Breckenridge News one year for $3.

Clearance Sale

FOR CASH ONLY

Beginning Jan. 7th and Continuing Until Jan. 30th

Country Produce Considered Same as Cash

Men's Ready-Made Clothing

$15.00 Suits reduced to $9.98
12.50 Suits reduced to 7.98
10.00 Suits reduced to 6.98

Men's Overcoats

$12.50 value reduced to $8.48
10.00 value reduced to 6.48
Boys' $7.50 value reduced to 5.98
$6.00 Raincoats reduced to 4.98
$5.00 Raincoats reduced to 3.98
Boys' $5.00 Raincoats reduced to 3.98
Men's Slicker Raincoats, regular price $2.75, reduced to $1.98

Boys' Ready-Made Suits

$5.00 value reduced to $3.98

Red Diamond Overalls

Men's size, $1.00 value, reduced to 89c
Youth's size, 75c value, reduced to 59c
Boys' size, 50c value, reduced to 39c

Men's and Boys' Hats and Caps

$2.50 value at $1.69
1.50 value at 1.15
1.00 value at .79
.50 value at .39
.25 value at .19

Hoosier Cotton

1500 yards to go at 5c per yard. Not more than one bolt to each customer.

Carpets

Ingrain carpet, 30c value, at 22c yard
Other carpeting accordingly.

Blankets & Comforts

$3.00 Bed Blankets at $2.48 per pair
$1.50 Bed Blankets at $1.21 per pair
Bed Comforts at one-third off reg. price.

Dress Goods, Suitings and Silks

2000 yards American prints, 6c value, for 5c
1000 yards Polo Cheviots, regular price 10c, reduced to 8c
12½c Gingham reduced to 10c
10c Gingham reduced to 8c
8c Gingham reduced to 6c
$1.00 value at 79c per yard
.50 value at 39c per yard
.25 value at 19c per yard
.15 value at 12c per yard
.12½ value at 9c per yard
Outings, 10c value, at 8c
Outings, 8c value, at 6c
A fine lot of new Embroideries of 1000 yards, at one-third off regular price.
Entire stock of Ladies', Gents' and Children's Underwear at 20 per cent. off regular price.
Millinery at one half regular price.

Shoes

$4.00 value at $2.98
3.50 value at 2.68
3.00 value at 2.39
2.50 value at 1.98
Lower priced shoes accordingly.

Overshoes and Rubbers

Rubber Boots, $4.00 value, at $3.00
Felt Boots, $3.00 value, at 2.48
Men's all Rubber Aretics, $2.00 value, at $1.68
Men's, Women's and Children's Overshoes at 20 per cent. off regular price.

Groceries

18 Pounds Granulated Sugar for $1.00
8 Bars Lenox Soap for 25c
7 Bars Cleanse Soap for 25c
3 Pounds Soda (Keg) 5c
2 Packages Blueine 5c
25c Coffee 20c
20c Coffee 15c
One lot loose Coffee at 12½c
3 Cans of 3-pound Tomatoes at 25c
3 Cans Corn at 20c
3 Cans Hominy at 20c
3 Cans Kraut at 21c
3 Cans Peas at 24c

Stock & Poultry Food

50c size at 39c
25c size at 17c
One lot of Patent Medicine at one-half regular price.

Hardware

Oil Cook Stoves at reduced prices.
Drum Heaters, $3.50 value, at $2.98
Drum Heaters, $3.00 value, at 2.48
Drum Heaters, $2.75 value, at 2.25

All other goods not mentioned will go at greatly reduced prices.
Terms—Cash or Produce; nothing charged during date of sale.

WM. DAVIS, : : McQuady, Ky.

WELL TOLD

By a Cloverport Resident.

The following has more interest for Cloverport residents than it otherwise would have because Mr. Johnson is one of ourselves, a citizen of Cloverport. If it prove of assistance to but one person in Cloverport, it will have been well worth the telling.

W. M. Johnson, prop. restaurant, Cloverport, Ky., says: "For six years I was afflicted with kidney trouble. I had pains in the small of my back and was lame when I got up in the morning. I tired easily, felt languid and was nervous. Dizzy spells and headaches also bothered me. The passages of the kidney secretions were too frequent, obliging me to get up at night. Doan's Kidney Pills brought me great relief. You may continue publishing the endorsement I have given Doan's Kidney Pills before."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Johnson had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

RAYMOND NEWS

Hark Allen, of Brandenburg, was in this neighborhood last week trying to buy a tract of timber, and he spent a night with Otis Stiff.

Miss Blanche Hall spent part of last week with her sister, Mrs. Frank Philpot, at Stoney Point.

Mrs. J. T. Knott was with her son, Carrease Knott, at Webster, last week.

Miss Lisha Basham visited Miss Hattie Bell Dutschke, at Webster, last week.

Mrs. Sam Robbins and children, of Ammons, were week-end guests at J. S. Ater's.

The musical parties at Henry Cashman's and Sam Johnson's on last Monday and Wednesday nights, respectively, were well attended. Fixing up the donkey afforded fun for all.

John Claycomb has moved his family to H. H. Pollock's.

The Quinine That Does Not Affect The Head
Because of its tonic and laxative effect, LAXATIVE BROMO QUININE is better than ordinary Quinine and does not cause nervousness nor ringing in head. Remember the full name and look for the signature of E. W. GROVE. 25c.

News Want Ads. are Little Winners

GOOD COMBINATION FOR 1915

Breckenridge News, 1 year $1.00
Louisville Evening Post, Daily, 1 year 3.00
Home and Farm, twice-a-month .50
24 page War Atlas .50

Total $5.00

➡ All For $3.50 ◀

SEND SUBSCRIPTIONS TO

THE . BRECKENRIDGE . NEWS
Cloverport, Ky.

ADVERTISE NOW

THE BRECKENRIDGE NEWS,

JNO. D. BABBAGE, Editor and Publisher

Issued Every Wednesday.

CLOVERPORT, KY., WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 6, 1915

EIGHT PAGES.

BUSINESS LOCALS 10c per line, and 5c for each additional insertion.

CARDS OF THANKS over five lines charged for at the rate of 10 cents per line.

OBITUARIES charged for at the rate of 5 cents per line. money in advance.

Examine the label on your paper. If it is not correct please notify us.

PRESBYTERIANS' WEEK OF SELF-DENIAL.

The Board of Foreign Missions and Home Missions of the Presbyterian churches of the United States has reported a debt for the year of more than $400,000. It is now proposed to have this week a "self-denial week" when all Presbyterians are asked to deny themselves one or two luxuries and give what they save to missions.

National and international missionary societies have been worse off than in any year since civil war times. Because of conditions the churches are not undertaking new projects, but are content if they can carry on their old work. The Catholic, Protestant and Jewish organizations of America are having a tremendous drain on them to meet the conditions caused by the European war.

The reason is—our people are quick to cut down church expenses, will decrease their church offerings before they deny themselves of personal necessities and luxuries. While this is true, on the other hand, the church members have been the first and most liberal in donating money for the relief of those across the sea. We believe that if everyone would give as the energetic church members have, the work of the missionary organizations would not be handicapped for lack of funds.

Although the churches are not undertaking the work of building new additions and the Protestant missionary societies have decided to cut the expenditure of their exhibition at the Panama-Pacific exposition, great seriousness is being observed by church leaders. Ministers say there is a deeper spiritual life. Instead of thinking so much of fine churches and other material blessings, they are thinking more of their own personal lives. The church men say this change is helping the temperance cause. Commercial men are turning their hearts and imaginations to true principles and greater undertakings to help other men to live sober and spiritual lives.

A GLIMPSE OF MR. IRWIN.

When the whistle blew at 2 o'clock at the L. H. & St. L. R. R. shops here New Year's day, the soft, gentle sound was in memory of the president and general manager who was kept by death from entering 1915 in the service of the Henderson Route. The friends of Mr. Irwin are glad they knew him; every incident in association with him comes back vividly with an influence. A glimpse of Mr. Irwin revealed the responsibility he carried. As he passed through a car, he usually went directly without stopping to speak to acquaintances. His shoulders were burdened with responsibility and his time was limited for the passing greetings the world expects. In his office men saw his kind, considerate attitude toward others. His manners were plain, yet graced with dignity. Mr. Irwin was a member of the church—he had not failed to express his belief in the Christian faith. He was not too busy nor too well satisfied to stand aloof from an organization of Christianity.

Mr. Irwin died before he had finished his work, but the hills around Rock Haven are sufficiently eliminated for safety of the patrons of the L. H. & St. L. This was his plan—to perfect the roadbed there from the slides of heavy rain falls and the danger of high water. The Henderson Route today is without a president, but we hope that the one appointed to take this official place will be as manly and splendid as Mr. Irwin. May he be a manager well equipped to guide and direct this company which is already standardized in the railroad world.

UNSOLICITED STATEMENT OF THE

BANK OF HARDINSBURG & TRUST COMPANY.

Unsolicited from the State officials The Bank of Hardinsburg & Trust Company gives a condensed statement of their bank in the advertising columns of The Breckenridge News this week. The condition of the bank at the close of business December 31, 1914, is of interest to all their patrons. The patrons of other banks will also take notice for the day has come when people are seeking intelligently information which will profit them financial benefits. The banks of Louisville last week either gave statements of their institutions or published New Year felicitations to their friends and customers in the advertising columns of all the newspapers of that city. The bankers of Kentucky are reaping the harvest of judicious advertising. Advertising may not bring in special delivery returns, but influences the public in a way that commercial men find beneficial and well worth the price.

THE JASON TO COME BACK WITH EXHIBITS.

The United States Steamship Jason has been detailed by the Government to bring back from the belligerent countries exhibits of their industrial and artistic development for the Panama-Pacific International Exposition. This act has certainly brought about a wonderful friendship between the industrial men of the war zone and the United States. Think what it means to them to have displays at the exposition, because the fact that the countries are at war will make their exhibits highly interesting. France, with an enemy's battle lines within 50 kilometers of its capitol, ratified an appropriation of $400,000 made in time of peace, to participate in an international exposition on another continent.

One of the striking truths of the war countries is that the public men are now preparing for a better country when the war is ended. While they are having a life and death struggle, they are planning much for their future days of peace. Isn't this wonderful faith and courage? We are glad that our Christmas ship will come back laden with the work of these strong hands and noble hearts.

MAKE INVESTMENTS AT HOME.

Young men and women who have experienced a prosperous year and are now planning their investments for 1915, should not fail to employ some of their money at home—that is, invest some of it in helping their own people, especially their parents, if they need it. It may not bring the full rate of interest, but it is a great experience for a young person to help his father and mother. Beginning the year make some arrangements to assist those who have never failed you. Help them to pay the debt off the home or business, if not that, look about for some way to make them realize your gratitude. You will never know what joy and happiness is, or the delight of interest on real investments until you have given voluntary service to those nearest to you. Invest some cold cash for the pleasure and help of your own mother and father during 1915.

Business is picking up all over the country. It is picking up in Cloverport and all over Breckenridge county. Farmers are getting busy. They are buying supplies for the beginning of a new crop. They are anxious to get to work. And they have a vim they have never had before. They are going to do more farming and better work. They see better times and better prices for their products. They are going to be ready with the goods. There are good times ahead for those who want them and make them.

There is no better point in the county for a loose leaf tobacco house than right here in Cloverport. What is needed is a good house well equipped for handling and shipping. It is a big business and requires good management, with plenty of capital to back it up. Three or four million pounds can be handled here.

The Loose Leaf way of selling tobacco has come to stay. It is only a question of time until all tobacco will be sold that way. It suits the buyers and the growers will find it the best way to sell as soon as they get into the loose leaf way.

Advertising is like the wind; you cannot see it, but it blows. You never know where it is going to hit. Keep a steady breeze of advertising coming out constantly from your store. Advertise your best prices, your new goods.

Residents in small towns and in the country should be careful and cautious to prevent danger of fire. You have no fire protection except caution and fore-thought these cold winter days.

MILITARY ARCHERS.

Bows and Arrows Were Used in Battle Up to a Century Ago.

We think of the bow and arrow as medieval weapons of war abandoned by the nations of Europe four or five centuries ago. The bowmen of Crete are the last of any prominence in English history. Yet it is only about 100 years since soldiers fought with bows and arrows in European wars, and that, too, on the fields of southern Belgium.

It was in 1813, when all Europe was armed against Napoleon. Every one of the allied nations brought every possible resource of men and means to further this end. Among them was Russia. To the war she sent soldiers from the newly conquered tribes that dwelt upon the steppes of Asia—Bokharans and Turkomans and Tartars and other half savage peoples. Many of these regiments were armed with bows and arrows.

Jomini, the military historian, speaks of a great number of these that fought side by side with the Prussians in eastern Germany and in Belgium, and he says that these bowmen held their own against the French infantry. Their aim, he says, was surprisingly good, and they could shoot an arrow with effect almost as far as a musket ball was effective, but in those days that was not much more than 100 yards.—Exchange.

THE ART OF MUSIC.

One Must Thoroughly Understand It to Really Enjoy It.

Berlioz says: "Music is the art of moving, by a systematic combination of sounds, the affections of intelligent, receptive and cultivated beings."

Weber states: "Music is to the arts what love is to man. In truth, it is love itself; the purest, loftiest language of passion, portraying it in a thousand shades of color and feeling."

Ruskin declares: "Music is the first, the simplest, the most effective of all instruments of moral instruction."

Have you ever thought what a desolate place the world would be without music? Have you ever realized that the entire civilized world now looks upon music as one of the great essentials in the education of the cultured man and woman?

Few persons know that the greatest delight of music comes through the understanding of it. The highest in music is not revealed to the student until the student has earned the right to enjoy it. With the right once earned the student has a wonderful power at his command, a power with which he can carry his listeners to the height of joy or to the depth of sadness. With music it is possible to exercise control over all the emotions of man.—Alfred Edward Freckleton, Jr., in New York Tribune.

The Social Code.

Men are kept orderly, clean and decent through the strength of an obsequiousness to social opinion which the prophets of individualism are in such haste to deplore. The social code, no doubt, always involves much inadequacy, much stupidity, some hypocrisy and some wickedness; but, taken by and large, the average of its prescriptions has probably been higher in every age than the average of undirected and unfettered individual impulse. Many of the things embodied in that wide ranging, multifarious thing called the sense of the community are undoubtedly right, since they were once the distinctions of heroic minorities or the discoveries of fearless individuals.—O. W. Firkins in Atlantic Monthly.

The Sea Horse.

The male sea horse has a little pouch in its ventral surface, into which in some manner it places the eggs of its mate. When they are hatched and become too numerous and large to control the sea horse presses the pouch against a stone and gently urges them to take their departure. At this time they are very small, but they grow rapidly and are preyed upon by myriads of fishes.

Quite Handy.

"The automobile is a great institution."

"For instance?"

"You can sit up in it as you pass a friend and crawl under it when a creditor heaves into sight."—Louisville Courier Journal.

The Ex-orter.

"Who is your Chicago friend?"

"He is a prominent ex-orter."

"What does he export?"

"I didn't say he exported anything. He used to be a porter at the hotel where I stopped."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Piles Cured in 6 to 14 Days

Your druggist will refund money if PAZO OINTMENT fails to cure any case of Itching, Blind, Bleeding or Protruding Piles in 6 to 14 days. The first application gives Ease and Rest. 50c.

IRVINGTON

Lost—An old-fashioned gold pin. Reward to finder.—Miss Margaret Coniff, Irvington, Ky.

Dr. W. B. Taylor spent the holidays with his brother at Hodgenville.

Miss Maurine Ashcraft entertained the young people Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Brite spent Saturday in Louisville.

The following young ladies composed a house party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Heron last week, Misses Mary Alexander, Guedry Bramlette, Eliza Piggott, Mary Heron, Elizabeth Woods and Virginia Kaye.

Cotton Seed Meal and Sucrose. Heston Whitworth & Co., Hardinsburg. Ask for prices.

Mrs. R. N. Miller, of Indianapolis, and Mrs. Nannie J. Wathen were dinner guests of Mrs. Sue C. Jolly Thursday.

Miss Lillie McGlothlin will leave this week for Sacramento, Cal.

Mrs. Addie Brown has been visiting friends at Lewisport.

The Housekeepers' League will meet with Mrs. Margaret Chamberlain on Thursday.

The young people enjoyed a skating party Thursday evening and were entertained at the home of Miss Eliza Piggott.

Misses Elizabeth Wood and Virginia Kaye, of Louisville, spent the holidays with Miss Mary Heron.

Mrs. James Bolin will be hostess to the Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church Thursday.

The School Improvement League will meet Friday afternoon.

Miss Eula Neafus has been visiting friends in West Point and Vine Grove.

Mrs. R. S. Bandy, Sr., died Monday noon after a week's illness from pneumonia. Mrs. Bandy leaves many relatives and friends to mourn her loss.

Mrs. J. C. Payne and daughter, Susie Thomas, have returned from Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Newsom Gardner and little Helen Smith spent Sunday with

THE BANK BOOK IS THE BEST BOOK. THE "PRUDENT MAN" HAS ONE.

BANK BOOK

We urge those who have not started a bank account with us to START one. Those who are already our customers know the value of always keeping their bank balance growing. Money put into our bank right here at home stays in our own community, and this helps develop it and helps everybody to prosper.

Why send money away when we can increase the value of OUR OWN property by building up your own town?

Total Resources including Trust Investments $600,000.

Safe Deposit Boxes For One Dollar Per Year.

THE BANK OF HARDINSBURG & TRUST CO.
Hardinsburg, Ky.

FOR SALE!

One brand new Standard Hornless Talking Machine. Very clear, loud and distinct. Uses 10 in., 4 minute, disc records; machine complete with 48 pieces of music. First one sending $20 gets it. Address

A. M. HARDIN, : : : : Lodiburg, Ky.

Sanitary Restaurant

Place For Ladies and Gentlemen

The Place to Get The Goods
FRESH CANDIES

Pure hand-made at manufacturer's wholesale prices

Fresh Cakes, Bread, Rolls and Pies
every day in the week

SATURDAYS

Lemon, Peach, Coconut and Mince Pies, Loaf Cake, Devil Food, Fruit Cake and other Fancy and Small Cakes. Lunch, Oysters—any style. We want your special orders. Phone No. 10

Brown & McIntyre
Cloverport, Ky.

FOR SALE!

Registered Durock's Spring Boars ready for service. Gilts bred for spring litters. Sired by Superba, Fancy Colonel, Defender's Best and Woodrow; the very best blood lines known to the breed, and out of sons equally as well bred.

The big kind with quality at reduced prices for next 30 days.

G. P. MAYSEY

Stephensport, : Kentucky

Miss Lottie Bandy gave a 6 o'clock dinner Friday at the home of Mrs. J. Sipes. The guests invited were: Miss Cleo Brownfield, Paul Wilson and Junious Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Shain.

Mrs. Larue Cox and daughter, Miss Katherine, have returned from Guston.

Miss Julia Lyons left Monday for Louisville, having spent the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jonas Lyons.

Lewis Herndon is ill at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Herndon.

Mr. and Mrs. James Smith, of Guston.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Hawes gave a 6 o'clock dinner Tuesday in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Traubbe. The following guests were present: Misses Elizabeth Crider, Julia Lyon and Evelyn Payne, Messrs. Gillie Dowell and Bernard Carter.

R. L. Lyon was in Pembroke last week.

Mrs. Belle Bruiere, of St. Louis, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Herndon.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Graham spent Wednesday in Cloverport.

Mr. and Mrs. G. N. Lyddan, of Park Place, entertained Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Lyddan, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Lyddan and children, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Lyddan, and Misses Maggie Carter, Myrtle Lyddan, Cleo Brownfield and Maggie Greenwood, Don Lyddan and Bernard Carter to dinner Wednesday.

Miss Dee Basham, of Lodiburg, has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. John Ater. Miss Evelyn Payne spent the week end in Louisville.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Traubbe left Saturday for Cincinnati.

A number of the young people attended a party at the home of Miss Evelyn King Saturday.

Mrs. Sarah Henry and Miss Mary Henry returned from Leitchfield Monday. They have been the guests of Messrs. and Mesdames Ed. Thomas and H. H. Henry.

Tom Carter, of Cloverport, is the guest of his brother, Bernard Carter.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ater returned from Lodiburg Sunday.

The Breckenridge News.

WEDNESDAY, JAN. 6, 1915

Entered at the Post Office at Cloverport, Ky. as second class matter.

THIS PAPER REPRESENTS FOR FOREIGN ADVERTISING BY THE

AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

GENERAL OFFICES
NEW YORK AND CHICAGO
BRANCHES IN ALL THE PRINCIPAL CITIES

RATES FOR POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENTS

For Precinct and city Offices.....$ 2.50
For County Offices.....$ 5.00
For State and District Offices.....$ 15.00
For Calls, per line.....10
For Cards, per line.....10
For All Publications in the interest of individuals or expression of individual views per line.....10

Change of Train Schedule on
The L. H. & St. L.

Effective December 14, 1914.

No. 142 will leave Cloverport..... 9:15 A. M.
Arriving Louisville..... 12:10 P. M.
No. 141 will leave Cloverport..... 6:30 A. M.
Arriving Owensboro..... 7:50 A. M.
Arriving Henderson..... 9:00 A. M.
No. 144 will leave Cloverport 4:30 p. m. instead of 4:55 as heretofore; it will also leave Irvington 5:50 p. m. instead of 6:01.

Personal Paragraphs

About People Who Live in Cloverport, Those Who Travel, Those Who Live in Other Towns and Cities and in States That are Far Away. Society Notes Included.

Joe Bishop has lagrippe.

Little Effie Orum, who has been seriously ill with measles, is a little improved.

Mrs. Joe Sawyer and Mrs. T. F. Sawyer spent Thursday in Hawesville, the guests of relatives.

Mrs. C. D. Hambleton, who has been seriously ill for the past four weeks, is a little improved.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Donaldson, of Bowling Green, spent Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. John C. Jarboe.

The Breckenridge News has received an attractive calendar from Mr. Conrad, Sippel, the shoe man of Cloverport.

The Wednesday Club gave a party to see the moving pictures Saturday night, followed by a supper at Gibson's.

Mr. and Mrs. John L. Gregory, of Mowqua, Illinois, were guests of Miss Drew Gregory and other relatives last week.

Dr. Forrest Gabbert and Mrs. Gabbert and son, Lucien, of Louisville, were guests of Postmaster Lightfoot and Mrs. Lightfoot.

Mrs. John Hawkins and Mrs. My. on Moorman, of Louisville, who have been with their mother, Mrs. C. D. Hambleton, have returned home.

Rev. and Mrs. Ellis A. Cottrell and daughter, Mary, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Cottrell Wednesday. Rev. Cottrell made a splendid talk at the Baptist church that night.

Notice to Teachers.

Hardinsburg, Ky., Dec. 29, 1914.—The first County Graduation Examination of the year will be held on Friday and Saturday, January the 29 and 30, and by the consent of State Superintendent Hamlett, we can arrange to hold this Examination at two or more places in the county so all teachers, having pupils who are expecting to take this Examination, will please write me at once, giving me the number expecting to take it, and I will arrange to hold this Examination at points to suit the convenience of the greatest number of applicants and the places of meeting will be announced later through the columns of each of the county papers.

J. W. TRENT, S. C. S. B. C.

...Your...

Prescription Privilege

It is your privilege to take your prescription to any druggist. The physician has no right to require you to any particular store.

No physician is apt to criticize your judgement if you bring your prescriptions to us for compounding. Let us fill your next prescription.

Wedding's Drug Store

The Penslar Store

Cloverport, : : Kentucky

Report of the condition of

THE FIRST STATE BANK

Doing business at the town of Irvington, County of Breckenridge, State of Kentucky, at the close of business on 31st day of December, 1914.

RESOURCES

Loans and Discounts.....$ 75,921.31
Overdrafts, secured and unsecured..... 1,382 70
Stocks, Bonds and other Securities..... 00
Due from Banks..... 5,044.88
Cash on hand..... 2,581 89
Checks and other cash items Banking House, Furniture and Fixtures..... 5,535.54
Other Real Estate..... 00
Other Assets not included under any of above heads..... 00

Total.....$90,465 52

LIABILITIES

Capital Stock paid in, in cash $15,000 00
Surplus Fund..... 2,201 56
Undivided Profits, less expenses and taxes paid..... 00
Deposits subject to check.....$ 33,028 74
Demand Certificates of Deposit..... 00
Time Deposits..... 40,235 22
Certified Checks..... 00
Cashier's checks outstanding..... 00—73 263.06
Due Banks and Trust Companies..... 00
Notes and Bills Rediscounted..... 00
Unpaid Dividends..... 00
Reserve for taxes..... 00
Bills Payable..... 00
Other Liabilities not included under any of above heads..... 00

Total.....$90 465 52

State of Kentucky, }
County of Breckenridge, } Sct.

We, W. J. Piggott and J. C. Payne, President and Cashier of the above named Bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of our knowledge and belief.

W. J. Piggott, President.
J. C. Payne, Cashier

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 4th day of January, 1915

Correct—Attest:
Lottie Bandv, Notary Public.
My Commission Expires January 19, 1918

Encouragement For 1915.

The Breckenridge News: Enclosed find my check for $1.00 in payment of subscription for the best weekly in the State.

Yours truly,

Dr. Harold J. Beard,

Livermore, Ky.

Jan. 2, 1915.

The Place of Sheep

In Kentucky Agriculture

With the gradual depletion of the western ranges in this country, the region where 60 per cent of the sheep in the United States have been maintained for lamb which the American people are developing, together with the ever increasing population, the question, "who will produce the future supply of mutton in the form of lamb for the American people?" arises.

For some time Kentucky has been a rather important supply factor in the spring lamb trade, being, as a state, admirably adapted to participate profitably in a large industry of this kind, but up to the present time she has never produced anywhere near the number of spring lambs which her natural facilities justify.

The advantages of Kentucky as a sheep state are numerous, the climate is most favorable and permits a pasturing season of long duration. The summers are not extremely hot and the winters are rather moderate. There is an abundance of low priced grazing land, excellent transportation facilities and the best of markets.

At Louisville, Kentucky, during the month of June, 1914, the top price of spring lambs was $9.00 or better every day, and the market situation both present and prospective is one that foretells good prices for several years to come. This does not mean that a large proportion of the farmers of the state should go extensively into the sheep business, but there is a place on nearly every farm for a small flock of ewes, maintained as a mutton proposition, with wool as an important by-product.

Kentucky has approximately 258,185 farms carrying less than one million sheep of shearing age, shearing a fleece of 4.6 lbs. average weight. The average acreage of these farms is 85.6 acres of which an average of 55.4 acres are under good cultivation. There is no class of live stock which would more profitably utilize the remaining 30.2 acres of land than the sheep. These farms could easily carry fifteen ewes as an average number, bringing the number of breeding ewes in the state up to nearly four million. The amount of money brought into the state from the receipts for spring lambs from this number of ewes would be enormous.

With the small flock it is possible to change pastures frequently and not pasture the farm too closely, thus doing away, to a large extent, with the danger of infection by the dreaded stomach worm.

The sheep is a particularly profitable

For Small Suppers,
Special Dinners
or Refreshments
after the show

Go To

LARKIN GIBSON,

Cloverport, Ky.

The broken bracelet matches
—and a young girl is made
fabulously rich—

Just be patient—

The Million Dollar Mystery

See it at American Theater

animal inasmuch as it returns a double income—both meat and wool. Under Kentucky conditions the wool will nearly, if not completely, defray the expenses of up-keep. By being allowed to graze the stubble fields and the lanes about the farm, they can derive their living mainly from that which would otherwise go to waste and at the same time return evenly distributed to the soil manure which under equal conditions is more valuable from the standpoint of fertilizing constituents than either horse or cattle manure.

The most superficial study of the economic situation with reference to mutton and wool is sufficient to show that the assurance of high prices for mutton and wool is based upon a world wide scarcity and the Kentucky farmer, with his natural advantages as a producer of spring lambs should rightly gather his share of this harvest—Mark J. Smith, Animal Husbandry Dept., Ky. Agricultural Station, Lexington, Ky.

Best Sales Ever.

Hardinsburg, Ky., Jan. 5, 4 p. m.—Nearly 200,000 pounds of tobacco sold at an average for burley, around $10. For dark, above $6. The best grades sold well, at least $2 better than last sales. Top prices for burley $14.50; for dark, $13.50. Big sales and representative buyers.

Training The Colt

Teach the colt to come at your call, always treating him with some fine grain or a lump of sugar when he does come. Train him to be haltered, led about the place and tied in a stall. Walk behind and all around him, speaking to him gently.

Train the colt to become accustomed to the harness while he is small and easily handled, laying the hand on him occasionally; curry and brush him up one side and down the other, rubbing him even to the hoofs; hitch him to the older horse a while, letting him learn by degrees to lead. Handled thus while young and tender; such a colt walks right off when put in a harness later on.

Normal School Notice.

I am expecting to conduct a Normal School, beginning about the first of February. Any one interested in such a school, will please write me at Hardinsburg, Ky.

R. T. LASLIE

The Pyrophore.

A living light, called the pyrophore, makes illumination cheap and convenient in Brazil. The pyrophore is a monster firefly an inch and a half long. With one it is possible to read fine print, and three will light a room. The Brazilian peasant, when he traverses by night the perilous forest paths of his country, fastens to each shoe a pyrophore. Thus illuminated, he has no difficulty in avoiding poisonous snakes, pitfalls and wild beasts. The Brazilian coquette fastens in her hair or her corsage a pyrophore incased in white tulle. The effect is as of a great luminous pearl or opal. When a pyrophore's light goes out it is not necessary to fill him up with oil, to drop a coin in him or to throw him away, but a moment's ducking in cold water suffices. Thereafter his three little lanterns, one on the breast and two on the back, emit again as bright a radiance as ever.

Read the Little Want Ads.

Wants.

NOTE.—Advertisers please notify the editor when you want advertisement discontinued.

Narragansett Turkeys.

FINE BIRDS.—Toms, $4.00; hens, $3.00; trio, $9.00; also mammoth Pekin ducks. Best strains of R. P. Rocks and R. I. Red chicks for spring sales. Write your wants at once. Satisfaction guaranteed.—Mrs. B. W. Carter, Irvington, Ky.

MAN past 30 with horse and buggy to sell. Suck Condition Powder in Breckenridge County. Salary $50 per month. Address 9 Industrial Bldg., Indianapolis, Indiana

For Sale or Trade—Brood Mare
FOR SALE—or trade for good milk cow, a good brood mare with foal. Henry Greenwell, Cloverport, Ky.

Dr. Jesse Baucum
Permanent
Dentist

Telephone 56-J Cloverport, Ky.

NOTICE

Please bring or phone your orders. Prompt Delivery

Fresh Oysters Celery
Cranberries Grapes Oranges
Bananas Lemons
Figs Dates Candies
Cakes

and many other good things in

Staple and Fancy Groceries

Allen M. Kingsbury,
Cloverport, Ky.

FOR SALE

Pure bred Buff Orpington Cockerels. Blue ribbon winners at Poultry Show

$1.00 Each

J. R. ESKRIDGE, Hardinsburg, Kentucky

I Take the Wrinkles Out of Your Clothes!

Expert Cleaning and Pressing.
Strictly Hand Work.

Men's Suits Cleaned and for 75c

O. BERRY

Cloverport, Kentucky

V. G. BABBAGE
..LAW..

Proceedings in Bankruptcy Instituted for Anyone

We Pay Postage Both Ways

Anywhere in the U. S. A.

THE ORIGINAL
PARCEL POST
LAUNDRY
LOUISVILLE, KY.

Superior Sanitary LAUNDERING

30 YEARS IN BUSINESS
We pay the postage both ways on all packages 50c. or over. Work guaranteed first-class. Prompt deliveries in sanitary packages. Will credit you upon reference. Write for information. Better, still, send trial bundle.

Offices: 625 W. Jefferson St. LOUISVILLE, KY.

NOTICE.

Breckenridge Circuit Court.
All persons having claims against the estate of Eliza G. Gregory, deceased, will present them to the undersigned Master Commissioner, properly proven, as required by law, on or before the 1st day of February, 1915.
This 2nd day of January, 1915.
LEE WALLS,
Master Commissioner of Breckenridge Circuit Court.

For the 5 O'Clock Tea or Afternoon Entertainments

Here Are Some Suggestions

Ripe, Stuffed or Plain Olives
Rosebud Cherries Asparagus Tips
Tuna Fish or Fish Flakes
Pimentos
Baronet Biscuits
Cheese Sandwiches
Jumbles or Lemon Snaps
Oranges Grapes Figs Dates
Bananas Nuts Candy
Cream or Swiss Cheese

Let us Fill Your Order

J. C. NOLTE & BRO.
CLOVERPORT, KY.

Marion Weatherholt General Contractor

Cloverport, Ky.

Lumber, Sash, Doors, Flooring, Ceiling, Weatherboarding, Moulding, Roofing, Brick, Lime, Cement, Laths and Plaster.

Building Hardware

Auto and Mill Supplies, Pumps, Pipe and Fittings

Machine Oils and Greases

Paints, Varnishes, Gasoline and Coal Tar

Everything goes in my line until January 1st at low-down prices. Give me a call and be convinced.

Houses For Sale and Rent

Wanted 50 Good Stock Hogs 80 to 100 pounds

A. T. BEARD, - Hardinsburg, Ky.

Keeping Everlasting at it is what brings success in advertising

Dr. R. P. Kunneck Veterinary Surgeon

OFFICE TRENT & WALLS LIVERY STABLE

PREPARED TO TREAT ALL ANIMAL DISEASES.
SPECIAL ATTENTION GIVEN TO CALLS AT ALL HOURS.

DR. R. P. KUNNECK, V. M. D.
HARDINSBURG, KENTUCKY

DR. W. B. TAYLOR

...PERMANENT...
DENTIST

Office Hours: 8 a. m. to 12 m. Always in office during office hours
1 p. m. to 5 p. m. Irvington, Ky.

Subscribe for The Breckenridge News

The Million Dollar Mystery

By HAROLD MAC GRATH

Illustrated from Scenes in the Photo Drama of the Same Name by the Thanhouser Film Company

(Copyright, 1914, by Harold MacGrath)

CHAPTER II.

The Master's Man.

Vroon faced Hargreave's butler somberly. The one reason why Braine made this man his lieutenant was because Vroon always followed the letter of his instructions to the final period; he never sidestepped or added any frills or innovations of his own, and because of this very automatism he rarely blundered into a trap. If he failed it was for the simple fact that the master mind had overlooked some essential detail. The organization of the Black Hundred was almost totally unknown to either the public or the police. It is only when you fail that you are found out.

"The patrolman has been trussed up like you," began Vroon. "If they find him they will probably find you. But before that you will grow thirsty and hungry. Where did your master put that money?"

"He carried it with him."

"Why didn't you call for help?"

"The houses on either side are too far away. I might yell till doomsday without being heard. They will have heard the pistol shots; but Mr. Hargreave was always practicing in the backyard."

"The people in those two houses have been called out of town. The servants are off for the night."

Lifted the Telephone Off the Hook With His Teeth.

"Very interesting," replied Jones, staring at the rug.

"Your master is dead."

Jones' chin sank upon his breast. His heart was heavy, heavier than it had ever been before.

"Your master left a will?"

"Indeed, I could not say."

"We can say. He has still three or four millions in stocks and bonds. What he took to the bottom of the sea with him was his available cash."

"I know nothing about his finances. I was his butler and valet."

Vroon nodded. "Come, men; it is time we took ourselves off. Put things in order; close the safe. You poor jacks, I always have to watch you for outbreaks of vandalism. Off with you!"

He was the last to leave. He stared long and searchingly at Jones, who felt the burning gaze but refused to meet it lest the plotter see the fire in his. The door closed. For fully an hour Jones listened but did not stir. They were really gone. He pressed his feet to the floor and began to hitch the chair toward the table. Half way across the intervening space he crumpled in the chair, almost completely exhausted. He let a quarter of an hour pass, then made the final attack upon the remaining distance. He succeeded in reaching the desk, but he could not have stirred an inch farther. The hair on his head was damp with sweat and his hands were clammy.

When he felt strength returning he lifted the telephone off the hook with his teeth.

"Central, central! Call the police to come to this number at once; Hargreave's house, Riverdale. Tell them to break in."

After what seemed an age of waiting to the exhausted prisoner, with crashing and smashing of doors, the police appeared in the room.

"Where's your gag?" demanded the first officer to reach Jones' side.

"There wasn't any."

"Then why didn't you yell for help?"

"The thieves lured our neighbors away from town. The patrolman who walks this beat is bound and gagged and is probably reposing back of the billboard in the next block."

"Murphy, you watch this man while I make a call on the neighbors," said the officer who seemed to be in authority. When he returned he was frowning seriously. "We'd better telephone to the precinct to search for Dennison. There's nobody at home in either house and there's nobody back of the billboards. Untie the man."

When this was done, the officer said: "Now, tell us what's happened; and don't forget any of the details."

Jones told a simple and convincing story; it was so simple and convincing that the police believed it without question.

"Well, if that ain't the limit! Did you hear any autos outside?"

"I don't recollect," said Jones, stretching his legs gratefully. "Why?"

"The auto bandits held up a bank messenger today and got away with twenty thousand. Whenever a man draws down a big sum they seem to know about it. And say, Murphy, call up and have the river police look out for a new-fangled airship. Your master may have been rescued," turning to Jones.

"If I were only sure of that, sir!"

When the police took themselves off Jones proceeded to act upon those plans laid down by Hargreave early that night. When this was done he sought his bed and fell asleep, the sleep of the exhausted. When Hargreave picked up Jones to share his fortunes, he had put his trust in no ordinary man.

A dozen reporters trooped out to the Hargreave home, only to find it deserted. And while they were ringing bells and tapping windows, the man they sought was tramping up and down the platform of the railway station.

Through all this time Norton, the reporter, Hargreave's only friend, slept the sleep of the just and unjust. He rarely opened his eyes before noon.

Group after group of passengers Jones eyed eagerly. Often, just as he was in the act of approaching a couple of young women, some man would hurry up, and there would be kisses or handshakes. At length the crowd thinned, and then it was that he discovered a young girl perhaps eighteen, accompanied by a young woman in the early thirties. They had the appearance of eagerly awaiting some one. Jones stepped forward with a good deal of diffidence.

"You are waiting for some one?"

"Yes," said the elder woman, colorly. "A broken bracelet?"

The distrust on both faces vanished instantly. The young girl's face brightened, her eyes sparkled with suppressed excitement.

"You are . . . my father?"

"No, miss," very gravely. "I am the butler."

"Let me see your part of the bracelet," said the young girl's guardian, a teacher who had been assigned to this delicate task by Miss Farlow, who could not bring herself to say good-by to Florence anywhere except at the school gates.

The halves were produced and examined.

"I believe we may trust him, Florence."

"Let us hurry to the taxicab. We must not stand here."

"My mother?"

"She is dead. I believe she died shortly after your birth. I have been with your father but fourteen years. I know but little of his life prior to that."

"Why did he leave me all these years without ever coming to see me?"

"It is not for me, Miss Florence, to inquire into your father's act. But I do know that whatever he did was meant for the best. Your welfare was everything to him."

"It is all very strange," said the girl, bewilderedly. "Why didn't he come to meet me instead of you?"

Jones stared at his hands, miserably.

"Why?" she demanded. "I have thought of him, thought of him. He has hurt me with all this neglect. I expected to see him at the station, to throw my arms around his neck and . . . forgive him!" Tears swam in her eyes as she spoke.

"Everything will be explained to you when we reach the house. But always remember this, Miss Florence: You were everything in this wide world to your father. You will never know the misery and loneliness he suffered that you might not have one hour of unrest. What are your plans?" he asked abruptly of the teacher from Miss Farlow's.

"That depends," she answered, laying her hand protectively over the girl's.

"You could leave Miss Farlow's on the moment?"

"Yes."

"Then you will stay and be Miss Florence's companion?"

"Gladly."

"What is my father's name?"

"Hargreave, Stanley Hargreave."

The girl's eyes widened in terror. Suddenly she burst into a wild frenzy of sobbing, her head against the shoulder der of her erstwhile teacher. Jones appeared visibly shocked.

"What is it?"

"We read the story in the newspaper," said the elder woman, her own eyes filling with tears. "The poor child! To have all her castles-in-air tumble down like this! But what authority have you to engage me?" sensibly.

Jones produced a document, duly signed by Hargreave, and witnessed and sealed by a notary, in which it was set forth that Henry Jones, butler and valet to Stanley Hargreave, had full powers of attorney in the event of his (Hargreave's) disappearance; in the event of his death, till Florence became of legal age.

Said Jones as he put the document back in his pocket: "What is your name?"

"Susan Wane."

"Do you love this child?"

"With all my heart, the poor unhappy babe!"

"Thank you!"

Inside the home he conducted them through the various rooms, at the same time telling them what had taken place during the preceding night.

"They have not found his body?" asked Florence. "My poor, poor father!"

"No."

"Then he may be alive!"

"Please God that he may!" said the butler, with genuine piety, for he had loved the man who had gone forth into the night so bravely and so strangely.

"This is your room. Your father spent many happy hours here preparing it for you."

Tears came into the girl's eyes again, and discreetly Jones left the two alone.

"What shall I do, Susan? Whatever shall I do?"

"Be brave as you always are. I will never leave you till you find your father."

Florence kissed her fervently. "What is your opinion of the butler?"

"I think we may both trust him absolutely."

Then Florence began exploring the house. Susan followed her closely. Florence peered behind the mirrors, the pictures, in the drawers of the desk, in the bookcases.

"What are you hunting for, child?"

"A photograph of father." But she found none. More, there were no photographs of any kind to be found in Stanley Hargreave's home.

When Norton awoke, he naturally went to the door for the morning papers which were always placed in a neat pile before the sill. He yawned, gathered up the bundle, was about to climb back into bed, when a headline caught his dull eyes. Twenty-one minutes later, to be precise, he ran up the steps of the Hargreave home and rang the bell. He was admitted by the taciturn Jones, to whom the reporter had never paid any particular attention. Somehow Jones always managed to stand in shadows.

"I can add nothing to what has already appeared in the newspapers," replied Jones, as Norton opened his batteries of inquiries.

"Mr. Jones, I have known your master several years, as you will recollect. There never was a woman in this house, not even among the servants. There are two in the other room. Who are they? And what are they doing here?"

Jones shook his head.

"Well, I can easily find out."

Jones barred his path, and for the first time Norton gazed into the eyes of the man-servant. They were as hard as gun metal.

"My dear Mr. Jones, you ought to know that sooner or later we reporters find out what we seek."

Jones appeared to reflect. "Mr. Norton, you claim to be a friend of Mr. Hargreave?"

"I do not claim. I am. More than that I do not believe he is dead. He was deep. He had some relentless enemies—I don't know where from or vate school; the other is Stanley Hargreave's daughter."

"Good Lord!" gasped the astonished reporter. "He never mentioned the fact to me, and we've been together in some tight places."

"He never mentioned it to any one but me," Jones again seemed to reflect. At last he raised his glance to the reporter. "Are you willing to wait for a great story, the real story?"

"If there is one," answered Norton with his usual caution.

"On my word of honor, you shall have such a story as you never dreamt of, if you will promise not to divulge it till the appointed time."

"I agree."

"The peace and happiness of that child depends upon how you keep your word."

That was sufficient for Norton. "Your master knew me. He knew also that I am not a man who premises lightly. Now introduce me to the daughter."

With plain reluctance Jones went about the affair. Norton put a dozen perfunctory questions to the girl. What he was in search of was not news but the sound of her voice. In that quarter of an hour he felt his heart disturbed as he had never before been disturbed.

"Now, Mr. Norton," said Jones gravely, "will you be so kind as to follow me?"

Norton was led to Jones' bedroom. The butler-valt closed the door and drew the window shade. Always seeking shadows, this did not impress the reporter at the time; he had no other thought but the story. Jones then sat down beside the reporter and talked in an undertone. When he had done he took Norton by the elbow and gently but forcibly led him down to the front door and ushered him forth. Norton jumped into his taxicab and returned to his rooms, which were at the top of the huge apartment hotel. He immediately called up his managing editor.

"Hello! This is Norton. Put Griffin on the Hargreave yarn. I'm off on another deal."

"But Hargreave was a friend of yours," protested the managing editor.

"I know it. But you know me well enough, Mr. Blair. I should not ask the transfer if it was not vitally important."

"O, very well."

"We shan't be scooped."

"If you can promise that, I don't care who works on the job. Will you be in the office tonight?"

"If nothing prevents me."

"Well, good-by."

Norton filled his pipe, drew his chair to the window, and stared at the great liner going down to sea.

"Lord, Lord!" he murmured. Then he smiled and chuckled. Some bright morning he would have all New York by the ears, the police running round in circles, and the chiefs of the rival sheets tearing their hair. What a story! Four columns on the first page, and two whole pages Sunday. . . . And all of a sudden he ceased to smile and chuckled.

In the living room of the Princess Olga Perigoff's apartment the mistress lay reading on the divan. There was no cigarette between her well shaped lips, for she was not the accepted type of adventuress. In fact, she was not an adventuress; she was really the Princess Perigoff. Her maiden name had been Olga Pushkin; but more of that later.

When Braine came in he found her dreaming with half closed eyes. He flourished an evening newspaper.

"Olga, even the best of us make mistakes. Here, just glance over this."

The Russian accepted the newspaper and read the heading indicated: "Aeronaut picked up far out at sea. Slips ashore from tramp steamer. Had five thousand in cash in his pockets."

"Hargreave escaped!"

"Not necessarily," she replied. "If it was Hargreave he would have had more than five thousand in his pockets. My friend, I believe it an attempt to fool you; or it is another man entirely." She clicked her teeth with the tops of her polished nails.

"There are two young women in the house. What the deuce can that mean?"

"Two young women? O! then everything's as simple as daylight. Katrina Pushkin, my cousin, had a child."

"Child? Hargreave had a child? What do you mean by keeping this fact from me?" he stormed.

"It was useless till this moment. He probably sent for her yesterday; but in his effort to escape had to turn her over to his butler. We shall soon learn whether Hargreave is dead or alive. We can use the child to bring him back."

The anger went out of his eyes. "You're a wonder, Olga."

"But you should have gone with Vroon last night. He does everything just as you tell him. When they reported that Hargreave had visited Ort's hangar you ought to have prepared against such a coup as flight through the air."

"I admit it. But a daughter! Well, I can bring him back," with a sinister laugh. "By the Lord Harry, I have him in my hands this time, that is, if this girl turns out to be his daughter. A million? Two, three, all he has in the world. I want you to pay a visit right away. Watch the butler, Jones. He'll lie, of course; but note how he treats the girl; and if you get the chance look around the walls for a secret panel. He might not have carried away the cash at all, only enough for his immediate needs, which would account for that five thousand on the man picked up at sea. If I could only get inside that house for an hour!"

"Here, Just Glance Over This."

what kind—and he is pretending he's dead till this blows over and is forgotten."

"You are not going to say that in your newspaper?" Jones was visibly agitated.

"Not if I can prove it."

"If I tell you who those young ladies are, will you give me your word of honor not to write about them till I give you permission?"

Norton, having in mind the big story at the end of this mystery tangle, agreed.

"The elder is a teacher from a pri-

der of her erstwhile teacher. Jones appeared visibly shocked.

"What is it?"

"We read the story in the newspaper," said the elder woman, her own eyes filling with tears. "The poor child! To have all her castles-in-air tumble down like this! But what authority have you to engage me?" sensibly.

Jones produced a document, duly signed by Hargreave, and witnessed and sealed by a notary, in which it was set forth that Henry Jones, butler and valet to Stanley Hargreave, had full powers of attorney in the event of his (Hargreave's) disappearance; in the event of his death, till Florence became of legal age.

Said Jones as he put the document back in his pocket: "What is your name?"

"Susan Wane."

"Do you love this child?"

"With all my heart, the poor unhappy babe!"

"Thank you!"

Inside the home he conducted them through the various rooms, at the same time telling them what had taken place during the preceding night.

"They have not found his body?" asked Florence. "My poor, poor father!"

"No."

"Then he may be alive!"

"Please God that he may!" said the butler, with genuine piety, for he had loved the man who had gone forth into the night so bravely and so strangely.

"This is your room. Your father spent many happy hours here preparing it for you."

Tears came into the girl's eyes again, and discreetly Jones left the two alone.

"What shall I do, Susan? Whatever shall I do?"

"Be brave as you always are. I will never leave you till you find your father."

Florence kissed her fervently. "What is your opinion of the butler?"

"I think we may both trust him absolutely."

Then Florence began exploring the house. Susan followed her closely. Florence peered behind the mirrors, the pictures, in the drawers of the desk, in the bookcases.

"What are you hunting for, child?"

"A photograph of father." But she found none. More, there were no photographs of any kind to be found in Stanley Hargreave's home.

When Norton awoke, he naturally went to the door for the morning papers which were always placed in a neat pile before the sill. He yawned, gathered up the bundle, was about to climb back into bed, when a headline caught his dull eyes. Twenty-one minutes later, to be precise, he ran up the steps of the Hargreave home and rang the bell. He was admitted by the taciturn Jones, to whom the reporter had never paid any particular attention. Somehow Jones always managed to stand in shadows.

"I can add nothing to what has already appeared in the newspapers," replied Jones, as Norton opened his batteries of inquiries.

"Mr. Jones, I have known your master several years, as you will recollect. There never was a woman in this house, not even among the servants. There are two in the other room. Who are they? And what are they doing here?"

Jones shook his head.

"Well, I can easily find out."

Jones barred his path, and for the first time Norton gazed into the eyes of the man-servant. They were as hard as gun metal.

"My dear Mr. Jones, you ought to know that sooner or later we reporters find out what we seek."

Jones appeared to reflect. "Mr. Norton, you claim to be a friend of Mr. Hargreave?"

"I do not claim. I am. More than that I do not believe he is dead. He was deep. He had some relentless enemies—I don't know where from or vate school; the other is Stanley Hargreave's daughter."

"Good Lord!" gasped the astonished reporter. "He never mentioned the fact to me, and we've been together in some tight places."

"He never mentioned it to any one but me," Jones again seemed to reflect. At last he raised his glance to the reporter. "Are you willing to wait for a great story, the real story?"

"If there is one," answered Norton with his usual caution.

"On my word of honor, you shall have such a story as you never dreamt of, if you will promise not to divulge it till the appointed time."

"I agree."

"The peace and happiness of that child depends upon how you keep your word."

That was sufficient for Norton. "Your master knew me. He knew also that I am not a man who premises lightly. Now introduce me to the daughter."

With plain reluctance Jones went about the affair. Norton put a dozen perfunctory questions to the girl. What he was in search of was not news but the sound of her voice. In that quarter of an hour he felt his heart disturbed as he had never before been disturbed.

"Now, Mr. Norton," said Jones gravely, "will you be so kind as to follow me?"

Norton was led to Jones' bedroom. The butler-valt closed the door and drew the window shade. Always seeking shadows, this did not impress the reporter at the time; he had no other thought but the story. Jones then sat down beside the reporter and talked in an undertone. When he had done he took Norton by the elbow and gently but forcibly led him down to the front door and ushered him forth. Norton jumped into his taxicab and returned to his rooms, which were at the top of the huge apartment hotel. He immediately called up his managing editor.

"Hello! This is Norton. Put Griffin on the Hargreave yarn. I'm off on another deal."

"But Hargreave was a friend of yours," protested the managing editor.

"I know it. But you know me well enough, Mr. Blair. I should not ask the transfer if it was not vitally important."

"O, very well."

"We shan't be scooped."

"If you can promise that, I don't care who works on the job. Will you be in the office tonight?"

"If nothing prevents me."

"Well, good-by."

Norton filled his pipe, drew his chair to the window, and stared at the great liner going down to sea.

"Lord, Lord!" he murmured. Then he smiled and chuckled. Some bright morning he would have all New York by the ears, the police running round in circles, and the chiefs of the rival sheets tearing their hair. What a story! Four columns on the first page, and two whole pages Sunday. . . . And all of a sudden he ceased to smile and chuckled.

In the living room of the Princess Olga Perigoff's apartment the mistress lay reading on the divan. There was no cigarette between her well shaped lips, for she was not the accepted type of adventuress. In fact, she was not an adventuress; she was really the Princess Perigoff. Her maiden name had been Olga Pushkin; but more of that later.

When Braine came in he found her dreaming with half closed eyes. He flourished an evening newspaper.

"Olga, even the best of us make mistakes. Here, just glance over this."

The Russian accepted the newspaper and read the heading indicated: "Aeronaut picked up far out at sea. Slips ashore from tramp steamer. Had five thousand in cash in his pockets."

"Hargreave escaped!"

"Not necessarily," she replied. "If it was Hargreave he would have had more than five thousand in his pockets. My friend, I believe it an attempt to fool you; or it is another man entirely." She clicked her teeth with the tops of her polished nails.

"There are two young women in the house. What the deuce can that mean?"

"Two young women? O! then everything's as simple as daylight. Katrina Pushkin, my cousin, had a child."

"Child? Hargreave had a child? What do you mean by keeping this fact from me?" he stormed.

"It was useless till this moment. He probably sent for her yesterday; but in his effort to escape had to turn her over to his butler. We shall soon learn whether Hargreave is dead or alive. We can use the child to bring him back."

The anger went out of his eyes. "You're a wonder, Olga."

"But you should have gone with Vroon last night. He does everything just as you tell him. When they reported that Hargreave had visited Ort's hangar you ought to have prepared against such a coup as flight through the air."

"I admit it. But a daughter! Well, I can bring him back," with a sinister laugh. "By the Lord Harry, I have him in my hands this time, that is, if this girl turns out to be his daughter. A million? Two, three, all he has in the world. I want you to pay a visit right away. Watch the butler, Jones. He'll lie, of course; but note how he treats the girl; and if you get the chance look around the walls for a secret panel. He might not have carried away the cash at all, only enough for his immediate needs, which would account for that five thousand on the man picked up at sea. If I could only get inside that house for an hour!"

"Here, Just Glance Over This."

Home Affairs Play Prominent Part In Life of Beckham

Graceful Wife and Two Bright Children
Adorn Hearth

SENATOR-ELECT J. C. W. BECKHAM of Frankfort, the first senator to be elected by the people for a regular term from Kentucky, needs no introduction to the people of this state. He has been in public life for years, yet is Kentucky's youngest statesman of prominence. Throughout the state he is known as a statesman, but in the capital he is known as a splendid citizen and good neighbor. His modest, but attractive, residence is in South Frankfort. His family consists of his wife, who was Miss Jean Fuqua of Owensboro, a daughter, Miss Eleanor, aged thirteen, and a son, Creppa, Jr., aged nine. The entire family are social favorites. The youngsters are popular, and the lawn at the Beckham home is the playground for the children in the neighborhood. They attend the public schools. Mrs. Beckham is a young woman of splendid domestic attainments. She is an ideal wife, whose thoughts and energies are devoted to her home, children, husband, family, neighbors and the needy. She is a hard worker in the King's Daughters' circle, which conducts the hospital in Frankfort, and in other charitable and religious causes.

Those who know Governor Beckham best are well aware that his chief interest and greatest pleasure lie in his home. There he spends practically all his leisure hours. He is not a familiar figure at the local club, in the lobby of the hotels or, indeed, any other place where men are accustomed to congregate in the evenings. He makes it an almost unbroken habit to spend his evenings at home. The well lighted study of the Beckham residence is on the first floor front. There the passer-by may see Governor Beckham early or late on almost any evening at his desk or in his reading chair. Books and writing enter very largely into the life of the senator-elect. But the study scene is not always a solitary one. Two children of more than ordinary attractiveness and promise bless this home. They may be seen from time to time in the study, and the attitude of parent and children suggests that lessons are being heard or that the story hour is at hand. Governor Beckham, although a young man, is an old fashioned father. He counts it his privilege and duty to personally supervise those things that make for the Christian character and physical well being of his children.

Mrs. Beckham possesses to a high degree all those gifts and graces which one instinctively associates with successful homemaking. This fact is not to be forgotten when one asks why the senator seldom leaves home after the evening meal.

A normal, wholesome, Christian home, blessed by health, hope and happiness, not untouched by sorrow, unspoiled by wealth and dominated by the highest ideals—such is the home of the junior senator.

No new member of the next senate will take his seat better informed or better equipped for the work ahead of the Democratic administration than this Kentuckian, who is first a student, with a wide knowledge of public affairs and closely in sympathy and in touch with the president and his secretary of state.

For a man of his years Senator-elect Beckham is a young man and has had a rather remarkable career in the public life of his state. Born Aug. 5, 1889, the son of William N. and Julia Wickliffe Beckham, he comes of a family that has been prominent in affairs of the south. His mother was the youngest daughter of Governor Charles A. Wickliffe, who also held the portfolio of postmaster general in the cabinet of President Tyler. Her brother, Robert Wickliffe, was a governor of the state of Louisiana. She was, therefore, the daughter, the sister and the mother of men who held the first office within the gift of the people of their states. His father, a lawyer and farmer, died when the subject of this sketch was but a mere boy. Owing to this he got no further than his sophomore year at old Central university when called home to manage the farm. He continued his studies, however, with the result that at nineteen he was made principal of the high school of his home town, which place he occupied for the succeeding three years. During this time he studied law, political economy and political history. He was admitted to the bar of Kentucky in 1903, and on his birthday that year, his twentieth, being just eligible, he was nominated by the Democrats of his county for a seat in the lower house of the general assembly. He was the youngest member of that body. During this service his health became impaired, and it looked as if his political career would be cut short. He went to New Mexico for the climate, and within a year was so nearly restored to health that he returned to Kentucky. On the advice of his physician he declined re-election to the legislature, but was destined to continue as a member of that body. Isaac Wilson, who had been given the seat he had refused, died shortly after taking the oath of office. His death took one vote from the Democrats of the assembly at a most critical time, when the body was deadlocked in the selection of a senator, the candidates being Joe Blackburn and W. Godfrey Hunter, the Republican candidate. The death of Wilson broke the tie, but one old state senator, who was something of an independent, though elected as a Republican, declared that the Republican nominee should not be sent to Washington across the Kentucky legislature and announced that he would wait a limited time for the Democrats to fill the vacancy. Without Beckham announcing for the place, his home people quickly reached the conclusion that he was the man to fill Wilson's seat. A special election was held, he defeated the Republican opponent by nearly 1,000, and he started out to get to the state capital before the hour fixed by the Republican senators for the Democratic side to have its vacant seat filled.

A railroad wreck occurred, and it looked as if the Democrats would fail. In the most inclement weather of a hard winter Beckham set out in a carriage from Bardstown for Frankfort, a distance of sixty-five miles. Teams were changed three times, and he reached the capital at 3 o'clock in the morning of the day the balloting in the senatorial race was to be resumed. The senatorial deadlock remained unbroken for all of that session, resulting in an extra session in 1907 and the election of William J. Deboe through the opposition of William O. Bradley, then governor of the state, to Hunter, the Republican nominee.

The Nelson county man was returned to the lower house in 1908, and had attained such prominence in the assembly that he was made speaker. At that time he was but twenty-eight years of age, the youngest man ever given this office in Kentucky. As presiding officer he attracted much attention, and in the Democratic state convention of the following year he was chosen for the office of lieutenant governor, as the running mate of the late William Goebel. Then followed the most exciting period in Kentucky since the civil war. The state contest was carried before the general assembly. Goebel was declared to have been elected governor and was shot down by an assassin almost at the entrance of the state capitol. W. L. Taylor, the Republican candidate for the governorship, established himself in the capitol, surrounded by a regiment of the Kentucky state guard, and the Democratic claimants, with Beckham at their head, opened up offices at the Capital hotel for the transaction of the business of the commonwealth, where they were surrounded by a portion of the state guard loyal to their side of the controversy. The Democratic majority of the general assembly was prevented by Taylor from meeting at the capitol, and, driven through the streets by his guardsmen to prevent their meeting elsewhere. The adjutant general even threatened to invade the room of the dying Goebel should a meeting be attempted therein. Enough of the majority was kept intact by the young governor to keep the record straight and clear. The full record of the settlement of the gubernatorial contest was preserved. Through it all he held his side in perfect obedience to the laws and set an example to his followers that did much to bring order out of chaos. When he could do so he reassembled the legislature at the seat of government and proceeded intelligently with the business of the state. So well did he handle the reins of government during these stormy times that the Democrats of the state made him their nominee to fill out the unexpired term of Goebel in the executive chair. The Republicans put forth a most formidable candidate in the person of John W. Yerkes, a man of national reputation, who had held himself aloof from the recent political trouble. It was a national year, Bryan and McKinley being the candidates, and the race was one of the most hotly contested held in the state in years. Beckham won by 3,700 majority.

Two weeks after the election, at the age of thirty-one years, the young governor was united in marriage to Miss Jean Fuqua of Owensboro. They occupied the state executive mansion for the seven years following, he being re-elected in 1907 for a full term of four years. As governor he did much to allay feeling which had been stirred up during the 1900 political troubles, winning the strong friendship of Republicans who had bitterly opposed him. He was governor of the whole people, and no trace of political feeling ever was displayed in the governor's office during the years that followed the political strife. During his incumbency he cleared the state of debts totaling nearly $2,000,000 without increasing the tax rate, and passed the office to his successor, the appointment of Robert Worth Rignham as mayor they closed and have so continued ever since. Through further extensions of the county unit local option laws he incurred the enmity of the liquor people and through taxation laws the ill will of the whisky rectifiers. Before his term as governor had closed he was nominated by the Democrats of the state in a primary election for the office of United States senator, defeating James B. McCreary for that honor. In those days the state legislature had the final say, and, although there was a clear Democratic majority in that body, he was defeated through the machinations of the whisky and brewery interests, who drew away from him four men who had been elected as Democrats and pledged to his support as the party nominee.

Senator-elect Beckham is not unknown in the national councils of the Democratic party. In the national conventions of 1901, 1908 and 1912 he was a delegate at large from the state of Kentucky, and in each convention represented his state on the committee on resolutions of the convention, helping to draft the national platform of the party. He has thus been closely associated with Mr. Bryan, with whom he has stumped Kentucky in all of the campaigns since 1896. He was a Wilson adherent when it was unpopular to be on that side in Kentucky, owing to the candidacy of a former Kentuckian, Champ Clark, and rendered valuable service to the New Jersey man at the Baltimore convention. At Washington he will not be found in the scramble for political pie, but in the committee rooms and conferences where affairs of big importance are being discussed.

$15,000.00

In the Hands of Farmers

Since the opening of our Loose Leaf Tobacco House in Hardinsburg it has put into the hands of the farmers over $15,000.00 that would not have been in circulation but for the facilities offered by our house. Isn't this something to be proud of and isn't it a benefit to the farmer, the merchant and all classes of business? Prices were not as high as they should have been but they were as high on a general average as in other markets. We had no contrroll over these. If it had been in our power we would have certainly made them higher. It was to our interest as well as the farmer.

Now, what we want is the full co-operation of the farmers who have tobacco to sell. The the more tobacco we have the more attractive it will be to out of town buyers to come and buy it.

This House was built for the farmers--a place where they can market their tobacco, see it weighed, see it sell and get their money on the spot. The Loose Leaf way is now the only way and the best way to sell tobacco. Bring it to us. Our next sale

Tuesday, January 12

Breckenridge Loose Leaf Tobacco Warehouse Co.

INCORPORATED

Hardinsburg,

:-

:-

Kentucky

FARM BARGAINS

C. L. BEARD, Hardinsburg, Ky.

No. 1. 88 acres, lying one and a half miles from R. R. station of 150 people; has district school about 200 yards from residence, about one and a half miles from King-wood with 100 people and a college of 250 students. Residence has 6 rooms, a good cistern, all necessary out buildings, with splendid range for poultry, 150 young apple trees, 75 peach trees all bearing. Stock barn with cistern for stock. One of the best producing farms in this section, in good state of cultivation, with plenty of grass, and 25 acres of Wheat. Price $3,500. One-third cash, balance easy terms.

No. 2. 264 acres, lying three miles from good R. R. station with churches and stores and a good flouring mill. Has a good comfortable 6 room residence, two tenant houses, stock barn, tobacco barn, necessary out buildings, all in good repair. Is on R. F. D. mail route, and has district school on the place. This is a good money maker, the land is strong and grows as good corn and tobacco as any land in this section. Price $3,500. Terms.

No. 3. 300 acres lying two miles from depot at Hardinsburg. Has old-fashioned residence in good repair, with necessary out buildings, one good stock barn, two good tobacco barns, cribs, etc. There is some good timber on this farm, thirty or forty acres. This is good, strong land and produced premium corn this year. Price $3,750. Terms.

No. 4. 300 acres four miles from two R. R. stations with churches, stores, B. S. shops, flouring mill, etc. Has 6 room residence in good repair, one tenant house, one stock barn, two tobacco barns, cribs, tool house, B. S. shop, all in good repair. Has 75 acres timber that furnishes mast for hog feed until Xmas. Balance of land cleared and in good state of cultivation. 80 acres grass and clover, 125 peach orchard, 2 acres in apple orchard. If you want a farm to make money on you can't beat this one in the state. It is a big bargain at $4,500, with easy terms.

No. 5. 380 acres lying two miles good R. R. point with churches, stores, school, shops, etc. Has three tenant houses, good stock barn, four tobacco barns, 25 acres orchard, plenty of timber, grass, etc. If you are looking for a stock farm you can't do better than buy this one. This is good, strong land and the present owner is making money on it but has other business that requires his attention. $4,500, easy terms.

No. 6. 225 acres lying one and a half miles from same station mentioned in number 5. Has roomy comfortable residence, with out buildings, good stock barn, one tobacco barn, all in good repair. Ten acres orchard, some good timber and plenty of water. If you want a good home in a good community on land that you can make money with, this is the place. $1,800 terms.

No. 7. 104 acres lying two miles from good R. R. station and 4 miles from the Ohio river. Has good five room residence with plenty of good fruit and is in a good fruit section. About 60 acres of this is cleared, balance in woods and is good rolling land adapted to burley tobacco and all grain crops. A splendid little farm for $1,200, with easy terms.

No. 8. 100 acres of good, clean, rolling land lying partly within city limits of Hardinsburg. Has good tenant house, barn and stable. This is an ideal location for chicken ranch and also commands quite an income from pasturage furnished residents of the town for their cows. The poultry business is not an experiment in this section, and is growing rapidly in importance as a reliable source of income. "The Golden Rod Egg Farm," one of the largest poultry plants in the state is located within speaking distance of this property. Price $3,500.

No. 9. 128 acres six miles from Cloverport on public road and R. F. D. mail route. Has splendid 7 room residence with veranda and porch, nice young orchard in bearing. Stock barn, 40x60, tobacco barn 35x35. 65 acres of this land is cleared. This is a bargain at the price, $1,200.

No. 10. 143 acres of first-class level land adjoining No. 9 and is being farmed in conjunction with it. Has a good 6 room residence on for tenant with all necessary out buildings including cellar with building over it. This is a first-class piece of farming land, 80 acres cleared, balance in timber. Every foot of it can be cultivated. 75 acres of it is Tar creek bottom. You can't beat this for $1,600. Easy terms on both places.

No. 11. 270 acres 4 miles from good R. R. station, on R. F. D. route near school and church. Has good 8 room residence, large stock barn, 2 good tobacco barns and all necessary out buildings, all in good repair. There is only a very small part of this tract that is rough and that is covered with timber. This is a good farm for any line of farming, stock, tobacco and grain. It is a good home with plenty of fruit, well and cistern and near a good fishing stream. Price $20 per acre. Terms.

No. 12. 300 acres good strong farming land lying in one of the best tobacco growing sections of the county, three miles from small R. R. town. Has a comfortable residence of six rooms, 2 good barns for stock and tobacco and another barn that only needs a new roof to make it good. All needed out buildings, plenty of fruit and grass. This is a good proposition for general farming and stock raising and is especially adapted to hogs. Price $4,500. Terms.

No. 13. Here we have a nice town residence built for family residence and limited number of boarders, with 75 acres of land lying partly in the limits of Hardinsburg. This is a good proposition for some one wanting to keep private boarders, raise chickens, farm and dairy. There is a splendid stock and tobacco barn on the land. Plenty of fruit. $4,000. Terms.

No. 14. 70 acres lying one mile from Hardinsburg High School building. This is a good piece of land but has no buildings except a four room tenant house with out buildings. Its location and the quality of the land makes this a very desirable property. A family could make a good home, raise chickens, farm some, keep a few cows and educate the children at small cost. Price $1,100.

HARDINSBURG

To finish the moment, to find the journey's end in every step of the road, to live the greatest number of good hours, is wisdom.—Emerson.

Mrs. Miller DeHaven had as her Saturday guests Mrs. Ballard Wilson, of Glen Dean, Misses Annie Hendrick and Eliza Miller.

Supt. J. W. Trent has returned from Custer, where he went to visit his sister, Mrs. Davis.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Duval and son, Ely Duval, will go to housekeeping this week in the house recently vacated by Mrs. Mary Barnes.

Mr. Robert Smith has gone to Louisville to visit his daughter, Mrs. D. W. Scott, on Sixth street.

Misses Mary Daily and Shirley Beard are at home from Louisville, where they have been visiting their grandparents, Judge and Mrs. William Ahl.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brown, of Cleveland, Ohio, have been the guests of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lewis.

Jerry Lennon returned Friday from a visit to Mr. and Mrs. Roland Smith at Stephensport.

Miss May Watlington spent a part of the holidays near Webster with her cousin, Miss Alta St. Clair.

C. E. Haswell, traveling salesman for Carter Bros., was the guest of his family Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. J. C. Payne and daughter, Miss Susie Thomas Payne, of Irvington, were guests last week of Mrs. Mary C. Heston.

Franklin Beard is the guest of his cousin, C. L. Beard, Jr.

Miss Margaret Peyton entertained some of her friends to six o'clock dinner Saturday evening.

Miss Ida Kennedy, of McQuady, is sick at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Kennedy.

D. O. Walls has gone to New York in the interest of the Ramsey case.

Mrs. A. M. De Jarnette, Marvin, Jr., and Ralph Beard, have returned from a visit to Rev. and Mrs. E. B. English at Berea.

Murray Brown left Sunday morning for Bowling Green, where he is attending school.

Samuel and William Evans entertained last week at their joint to a fish fry the following: Prof. Steele, Dr.

PUREST

SWEETEST

BEST

ONLY GOOD WHEAT SCIENTIFICALLY MILLED MAKES THE BEST FLOUR

Extra Fancy Self Rising

Snow Drift, First Patent

Bob White

Snow Drift flour is made under cleanly and sanitary conditions, is warranted ABSOLUTELY PURE and free from adulterations of any kind. Its purity and wholesomeness are its highest recommendations.

CALL FOR THE BAG WITH THE LOAF OF BREAD ON IT!

It is best, costs no more than the rest—why not use it?

Hardinsburg Mill & Elevator Co.

Hardinsburg, Kentucky

THE OLD RELIABLE

Breckinridge Bank.

Does a Strictly Legitimate Banking Business
This Enables us to be Always Safe and Strong

When in Need of Anything Come to us

MAMMOUTH BRONZE TURKEYS!

$5.00 for one Young Gobbler; $8.00 per pair; $11.00 for trio; young gobbler weighs 25 pounds.

Fine Plymouth Rock Cockerels $1.00 Each

For further particulars write to

MRS. THOS. BEARD, :: Hardinsburg, Ky.

Kunneke, Rob Haswell, J. G. Haswell and M. C. Kinchelee.

Miss Emma Ahl, of Louisville, is visiting her sister, Mrs. G. D. Beard.

Prof. Andrew Driskell, of Fordsville, was the week-end guest of his family.

The following young ladies have returned to their schools: Misses Judith Beard, Annie Lewis and Clara Whitworth to Lexington; Addie K. Eskridge, to Bowling Green; Ruth Kinchelee, Eliza Miller and Margaret Peyton to Louisville; Miss Eliza Taylor to Russellville.

Cough Medicine for Children.

Never give a child a cough medicine that contains opium in any form. When opium is given other and more serious diseases may follow. Long experience has demonstrated that there is no better or safer medicine for coughs, colds and croup in children than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is equally valuable for adults. Try it. It contains no opium or other harmful drug. For sale by all dealers.

LODIBURG

Miss Laura Hue Watlington, of Lookout, was the week-end guest of Mrs. Charlie Payne and other relatives.

Prof. Arthur Ater and Mrs. Arthur Ater, of Irvington, were the guests of Mrs. Ater's parents, Mr. and Mrs. June Bandy.

Miss Dee Basham, teacher of the high school of Newport, Ky., spent the holidays with her aunt, Mrs. Adam Basham.

Huette Gibson, attending the State University, spent the holidays at home with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gibson.

Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Head spent Christmas day with Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Chism and enjoyed a fine dinner. Mr. and Mrs. Head received several nice presents from their children, Jasper Head, of Cincinnati, and Mrs. Beardsley, of New York city.

Miss Dessie Adkisson, of Rhodelia, was the week-end guest of Miss Allie Keys.

Harral Parks visited his uncle, Jess Parks.

We are glad to report that Dr. S. B. Adkisson is improving.

Mr. and Mrs. Dugan Severs will leave in a few days to attend the State University.

Those who have friends from a distance, or any item they wished published, please leave it with Miss Mamie Adkisson at the postoffice and I will get it.—Ben. H. Hardin.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Fitch, of Cloverport, was the guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Keys on New Year's day.

Olilie Johnson, who has been in Florida, has returned home.

Mrs. Charlie Bruce, after a week's visit at Hopkinsville, has returned home.

Dr. S. P. Parks, of Irvington, was the guest of his brother, Jess Parks. Mrs. Charlie Avitt visited Mrs. Bill Addison.

Castle Dye was the guest of Miss Susie Hutchison, of Rynierville, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Grayson Payne were visiting Mr. and Mrs. Allen Bandy, of Clifton Mills, last Thursday.

Can't look well, eat well, or feel well with impure blood. Keep the blood pure with Burdock Blood Bitters. Eat simply, take exercise, keep clean, and good health is pretty sure to follow. $1.00 a bottle.

Honesty Is The Best

A short time Miss Nora Sheeran, a well-known citizen of Breckenridge county, who lives on the old Lacey farm near Hardinsburg, sent a certain amount of money to Evansville, Ind., to be paid to Mr. Hiram Winchell (also a former citizen of this county) for a blacksmith bill which she believed her aunt Annie Lacey, who died nearly two years ago, owed him. "I am not sure she owed it," she said, "but I will feel better if it is paid."

But Mr. Winchell refused to take the money. He said that he remembered doing some work for her, but he thought he had been paid. "Tell Miss Sheeran," he said, "to rest easy about the matter. I don't think that there is any debt between Miss Lacey and myself." So the money was returned to the honest owner. "Honesty is not only the best policy but the only policy."

Invigorating to the Pale and Sickly

The Old Standard general strengthening tonic, GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC, drives out Malaria, enriches the blood, and builds up the system. A true tonic. For adults and children. 50c

PERRIN

Rev. Raymond Oliver is holding a protracted meeting at this place.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Penick have returned home from Cloverport, where they were visiting their son, Morton Penick.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Marr received a nice box of oranges from their son, T. W. Marr, of Crescent City, Fla.

Mr. W. T. Gregory was in Custer Saturday.

Mrs. Abe Burn was thrown from a buggy and seriously injured one day last week.

The school closed at this place Dec. 24th, Mrs. Lina K. Penick teacher. The school was one of the most successful schools ever taught here. A splendid program was rendered and quite a number of premiums awarded; the three who were the most punctual and faithful being Mary Marr, Lulu Huffines, Clay Marr. The Christmas tree was enjoyed by all. A hearty welcome was given the teacher for another year.

Success to The Breckenridge News and its many readers.

Hives, eczema, itch or salt rheum sets you crazy. Can't bear the touch of your clothing. Doan's Ointment is fine for skin itching. All druggists sell it. 50c a box.

NOTICE

All person having claims against the estate of W. J. Worden, assigned, will present same, properly proven according to law, to the undersigned assignor, on or before January 16, 1915. All persons knowing themselves indebted to the said Worden will please come forward and settle.

MARION WEATHERHOLT, Assignor.
Cloverport, Ky., Dec. 14, 1914. 16-4t

Many Thanks

Dear Mr. Babbage: Enclosed find $1, for which you will please renew our subscription to The Breckenridge News for another year. We don't want to do without this paper, as it is a welcome visitor to us every week. Wishing you a happy and prosperous New Year. Yours respectfully,

MRS. W. E. HUSTON,
Louisville, Ky.

IRVINGTON PHARMACY

THE DRUG STORE THAT SAVES YOU MONEY

Throughout the Year of 1915 the Paramount Quality of our Drugs and Medicines Shall Always be Maintained.

KODAK

Remember that all seasons are Kodak seasons, and that pictures of winter as well as summer scenes, will, in after years, recall the by-gone days.

KODAK

Lex's Cold
Tablets will Cure
That Cold in
One Night

Lex's Cold
Tablets will Cure
That Cold in
One Night